

Wimbledon

Wimbledon is played on grass and is the oldest tennis tournament in the world. Many popular and skilled players want to win the grand prize.

Rich History

'The Championships, Wimbledon' is famous for serving strawberries and cream and was the first tennis tournament to ever take place. In fact, players have been hitting balls at Wimbledon for 131 years! In that time, there have been many brilliant players who have won the grand prize and this year promises to be the most-watched tournament ever.

Money, Money, Money

The players get a lot of prize money for winning Wimbledon. This year, the winner of the men's and women's singles titles will receive over £2 million!

Playing the Game

The matches at Wimbledon are very different to how tennis was played when it was invented in France in the 12th century. To begin with, a ball was hit with the palm of the hand. These days, Wimbledon players strike the ball with a racquet and this can be really fast. The record speed for a serve at Wimbledon (when players throw the ball in the air and hit it from above their head), is 238 kilometres per hour. This is about the same speed as an average helicopter.

Here are five more fun facts about Wimbledon:

1. Players must wear white.

Umpires can ask a player to change if they're not wearing white. In 2013, the Wimbledon champion was told to change his shoes because they had orange soles!

2. The balls can't be white!

To begin with, Wimbledon matches were played with white tennis balls. However, that was changed when TV viewers complained that they couldn't see them! In 1986, the balls were changed to yellow.

3. The tennis balls are kept in the fridge!

New balls are used all the time in a tennis match. To make sure they are in perfect condition, they are stored in fridges! Over 54,000 balls are used during Wimbledon each year.

4. It's not easy being a ballboy or ballgirl.

Ballgirls and ballboys kneel at the side of the court and grab any loose tennis balls which come near them during a game. Ballboys and ballgirls often come from local London schools and, if picked, have to pass written and fitness tests before being given the job.

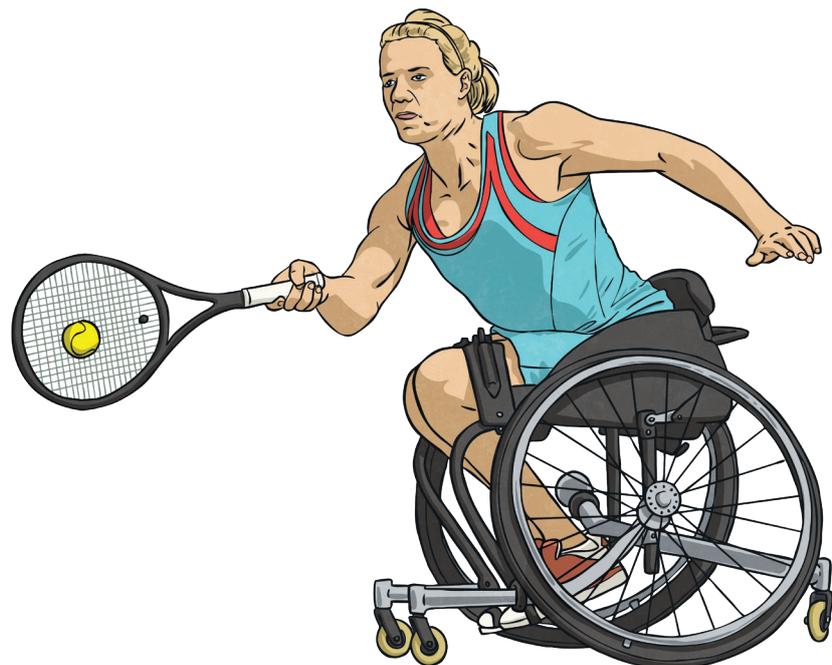

5. Matches aren't always quick.

Usually, matches are finished within a few hours. However, in 2010, a match spanned over an incredible three days! The total time on court was 11 hours and five minutes.

When Does It All Start?

Qualifying start on 25th June but the main matches at Wimbledon begin on 2nd July.

There are many titles to be won in the two weeks that Wimbledon lasts for. Along with the men's and women's singles matches, there are men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles, alongside wheelchair and junior events.
